

NEW CHIEF OFFICER

NAT RHODES

The Bureau is happy to announce the appointment of its new Chief Officer, Nat Rhodes. Previously the organisations Community Health and Wellbeing Manager, Nat is bringing into her position a passion for the local community alongside a skillset that allows her to get the most from our team and the organisation.

Having previously worked in the Probation Service, Nat has a long working history of helping those who have been disadvantaged and marginalised in order to improve their lives.

On news of her appointment, Nat had the following to say.

"There are some challenges ahead, new health boundaries to navigate, new relationships to make and nurture, and decisions to be made as to how we best manage the ongoing effects of the COVID pandemic to name but a few. I bring with me a genuine interest in and deep care for people, an extensive background in developing and delivering projects and interventions that work and 17 months of direct operational management across our social prescribing, befriending and peer support services."

We look forward to continuing our support of our community with Nat at the helm, and further improving the services we offer in order to best serve those who need us.

"The Trustees are delighted to appoint Natalie to the post of Chief Officer. Following a rigorous recruitment process, it was felt that Natalie had the attributes and experience to continue and develop the vision and strategy of the Bureau going forward. We are all looking forward working with her."

Community Wellbeing
 Tameside & Glossop

Here at The Bureau, we love hearing back from our community, clients & volunteers, and getting feedback that helps us provide better services to our local area!

This month we highlight the experience of Ron, one of our Befriending Volunteers, and his experience volunteering at The Bureau.

"Thursday is a good day, I meet [CLIENT] for a stroll around one of the reservoirs in Longdendale. We benefit from enjoying the beautiful scenery and having some healthy exercise. During these jaunts we put the world to right, laugh about the football match and swap stories of yesterday."
